Official Is Arrested on Theft Count

SEATTLE, Oct. 24.—County Commissioner H. C. Stevenson was arrested here today by sheriff's deputies on a telegraphed grand larceny warrant from Buffalo, N. Y.

The telegram said, "Arrest John C. Stevenson, alias John C. Stevenson on a charge of grand larceny. Copy of indictment follow."

"It looks like the frameup has arrived at last," said Stevenson.

Stevenson some months ago successfully opposed return to Buffalo under two old indictments charging "John C. Stevenson" with grand larceny by misappropriating money from stocks entrusted to him for sale.

Complaints sought to identify Stevenson as Stevenson, former Buffalo securities broker, but the Erie county Supreme Court refused to have him extradited.

SUICIDE FEARED AT BRIDGE SCHOOL STORE DISCONTINUED

MAN'S BODY IS SOUGHT IN STRAITS

Frank E. Prittle, 51, of Oakland, formerly an employee of the Southern Pacific, is undoubtedly a suicide, and officials believe that his body lies in the waters of the Carquinez straits.

Searching parties patrolled the waters of the straits all night long, but without any success.

Prittle left home yesterday afternoon in his automobile, and at Pinedale stopped and telephoned to his friend Jack Rucker in Berkeley, and told him he was on his way to the Carquinez bridge and intended to commit suicide.

Rucker immediately got in touch with the sheriff's office and the bridge officials were notified of the information relayed them.

Guards were placed at both ends of the bridge, but no sign of Prittle was found.

Deputy Sheriff H. B. Hollenbaugh was dispatched to the bridge and made a search of the surrounding territory. In the large parking space this side of the span, Prittle's automobile was found, but there was no sign of the missing man.

It is the opinion of Hollenbaugh that Prittle, after parking his car, walked to the edge of the steep

Madigan Speaker For Elks

Football fans, who are members of the Richmond Elks lodge, No. 1254, last night heard Edward S. Madigan, coach of St. Mary's football team, tell of football.

In his address, Madigan declared that education is of the primary importance at St. Mary's. Football is only secondary, he said.

The football field, Madigan declared, is an experimental laboratory. Here the players learn their lessons of life. Here, he said, in no other way does youth learn endurance, perseverance, and good clean sportsmanship.

Football, he declared, teaches a lesson that players never forget. He declared that he was exceptionally proud of the Gael team. They have shown remarkable courage and grit in uphill battles.

In comparing various football teams on the Pacific Coast, Madigan declared that the Gaels and Stanford are similar inasmuch that both teams have vast sources of power that they so far have not unleashed.

Madigan predicted that Saturday's game between University of California and Southern California would be nip and tuck from basis in passing attack; the Trojan line is strong and powerful, but that both teams will enter the game fully

Dr. Joseph N. Holzer, United States Department of Agriculture.

E. N. Tooby, Eureka, with a cattle ranch in Marin county.

The indictments grew out of investigation of the administration of the joint Federal and State bovine tuberculosis eradication program.

Two indictments were voted. The first named Higgins, Lertora, De Benedetti, Gardner, Holzer and King. In the second Gardner, King, Holzer and Tooby were named.

The first indictment, charging conspiracy to defraud the United States Department of Agriculture by fictitious claims against the Government, is based on alleged false claims for payments for

FUNDS WILL BE GIVEN TO HIGH BOARD

The co-operative store that has been conducted at the Richmond Union high school since 1926 will soon be a thing of the past.

This was decided upon yesterday at Martinez, after a conference of the education and auditing committees of the Hale grand jury and Superintendent of Schools W. T. Helms, B. X. Tucker principal of the school, and Theodore Madison, the manager of the store.

Conference is held. The school officials told the grand jury committee that there had been unjust criticism on account of a partial report of the expert of the last grand jury, and asked what action the inquisitorial body thought should be taken.

Disposition of Funds. The result of the conference was that it was agreed the co-store should be abolished, and the money it has earned during the time it has operated, should be turned over to the high school trustees, and be placed in a special fund to be used by the trustees for student activities and for the aid of needy students.

The Surplus Accumulated. During the time the store has operated it has accumulated a surplus of practically $5,000, and the store still has a stock of goods

America Will Make Purchase of Gold Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—President Roosevelt tonight announced that the government will make its first purchases of gold under the president's program tomorrow.

The price paid will be slightly above the offering in Europe, and the purchase money probably will come from funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which has approximately $1,000,000,000 available.

First purchases will be confined to newly mined American gold. Later, if it is deemed necessary, purchases will be made abroad, higher prices being the lure to attract vendors.

Although the newly planned gold market will be under the nominal direction of Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the R. F. C., the actual direction will be under the personal supervision of President Roosevelt.

The car, its fenders dented, its axle and chassis bent, was towed to a local garage, where the owner of the machine went to the hospital for treatment.

The car set in the garage for several days, its wind-bell broken, its fenders crumpled, scarred and nicked.

Then, last evening, fellow employees of the injured man demonstrated their friendship for the owner of the car. More than 25 Ford plant workmen went to the garage and started to re-build the damaged car.

TROY ELEVEN
MAY USE PASS
GAME SATURDAY

Smarting from its "moral defeat" at the hands of Oregon State last week, the University of Southern California football team yesterday went through stiff practice in preparation for its game on Saturday.

A hint was dropped that the Trojans will open up on Saturday with an aerial attack that will "knock the Bears dead." Headman Jones shook his head when asked by an inquiring reporter if this might be true.

"You never can tell," Jones said.

So far this year the Trojans have drawn blanks, as far as a passing attack is concerned. However, Jones may be attempting to build an aerial attack for the Bears.

In the meantime the Golden Bears, who were held to a 6 to 6 tie last Saturday by the Cougars, are out to win the coming game, despite the injuries.

Chuck Cotton, California left halfback was named to start in the key position while Jim McCormick will replace Jack Brittingham, who is injured.

Johnny Ransome will return to his position as tackle and it is believed that Floyd Blower will be back in the lineup.

READ RECORD-HERALDHIGH ELEVEN TO DO BATTLE WITH JR. GAELS

By CHARLES GLEIM

When Richmond high's football squad journeys to Berkeley Thursday afternoon to meet St. Mary's in what will be their last appearance of the season, they will be up against a group of players that will defeat them by a record score unless the locals do an about face and play tough from start to finish.

The Oilers have looked pitiful in their last two contests. Lack of their generalship and failure to function as a unit are the two main reasons why Richmond has been held to a tie and one defeat.

To defeat St. Mary's tomorrow Richmond must take chances. By "chances" they must pass. Their forward passes click very consistently. Over the course of the present season their percentage of completed forward passes average almost 750—an unbelievable mark.
Why keep an attack like this under cover for three-fourths of the game?

Deception and speed must be employed against the "Junior Gaels." Straight football is "St.
Mary's" dish and it is this writter's guess that the team that beat Berkeley can name their own score against Richmond unless Ribble revamps his Oiler backfield.

Don Bignall, a little fellow as fast as a bullet, has seen very little service in the Oiler backfield this season. Once under way this little fellow is off to the races. Should Coach Ribble choose to start this little fellow and barring injuries leave him in at safety the entire game, it is an even bet that St. Mary's will see his heels all afternoon.

St. Mary's is recognized as one of the strongest football teams in California prep circles. The Oiler's could carve quite a name for themselves with a win over St.
Mary's, but Ribble's squad might just as well stay home Thursday afternoon if they expect to defeat the Gael playing the same brand of football they have exhibited in their past two contests.

Richmond enters its last game of the season with the following record:

Oilers	0	University	3
Oilers	6	Gallieo	0
Oilers	0	Vallejo	14
Oilers	6	San Rafael	0
Oilers	6	Alameda	0
Oilers	28	Alhambra	7
Oilers	6	Mt. Diablo	6
Oilers	12	Hayward	20

Ranchers Named In U. S. Quiz

It is recalled that the Marin county control area was set up October 20, 1922, and that Biggio and Lertora had purchased the previous June from Antonio F. Morris the lease of a ranch near Inverness and 65 head of cattle, paying $2200.

The two are then alleged to have conspired to buy from O. L. Shafter, a ranch superintendent, 45 head of cattle at $13.50 a head and arranged to purchase two more at $14.

Gardner and Holzer in December, 1922, appraised the cattle of Biggio and Lertora at excess value. It is charged.

The second indictment has a similar setup and charges that Tooby leased a Marin county ranch from Manuel Fagundes for the purpose of later securing excessive cattle indemnities.

Bonds for those named in both indictments, King, Gardner and Holzer, were fixed at $10,000, while the bonds for the others were fixed at $5000.

King was not named in any of the overt acts charged.

An eight month investigation by Federal authorities preceded the Grand Jury hearings. Witnesses included Dudley Moulton, former State Director of Agriculture, who appointed Dr. King.

Under the eradication program the Federal Government paid one-third of the indemnity awards.

De Benedetti, San Francisco meat packer and political figure, is said to have been heavily interested financially in aiding Biggio and Lertora in their venture.

Claims of Biggio and Lertora amounting to approximately $15,000 were held up by the State as a result of the charges. Tooby's claims of about $20,000, according to State officials, also were held up.

Charges were that known "reactors" were purchased at low cost and "unloaded" on the Federal and State governments at much higher appraisal figure.

Dr. Holzer, one of those indicted, was transferred to Minnesota some months ago.

S. F. Supervisors Hands Off in Row

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—The Board of Supervisors today was committed to a "hands off" policy as regards the Citizens' Emergency Relief Committee, having voted unanimously affirming the committee's complete authority in relief matters.

This follows a row a week ago between the committee and the board, when the latter body passed a resolution demanding that cash relief be instituted at once in place of the grocery order system. The committee, while approving of the cash relief plan "in principle," took the stand it would not take orders from the supervisors, holding its authority on relief matters was final.

Fliers Who Broke Flight Record

OFFICERS and men of the five U. S. Navy seaplanes that recently made a record-breaking non-stop formation flight from Norfolk, Va., to the Canal Zone, at Norfolk just before the take-off.

ness quarters, the President not only will keep the Act intact, but is determined to enforce it to the hilt. That is the reason behind his recent appointment of Professor James M. Landis, of Harvard's law school, to the Federal Trade Commission, which has jurisdiction over the measure.

Thirty-four years old, a Felix Frankfurter "boy" and one of the most enlightened minds in the legal profession, Landis helped write the act, can be depended upon to see that it gets 100 per cent execution.

UNDER PERSHING

When George Dorn was a youngster in the University of Nebraska about forty years ago, he probably never dreamed that some day he would be Secretary of War. Nevertheless the register of the university shows that he took military education under First Lieutenant John J. Pershing, of the Tenth Cavalry, then commander of university cadets.

Now Pershing has an office down the corridor from Dorn. Gold letters over the door read: "General of the Armies."

Dorn registered at the University of Nebraska in 1894. His name is in the college register, is marked with an asterisk, meaning that he was "somewhat irregular." He suffered from a handicap in entrance requirements due to the fact that he had completed only three out of the required 30 2-3 hours of preparatory work.

Under Pershing, Dorn was a member of the Cadet Band, where he is listed as "private and second alto." Apparently he never graduated.

Note—Other famous men who trained in the Nebraska cadet corps under Pershing were William Jennings Bryan, Charles G. Dawes and ex-Governor William O. Lowden of Illinois.

FREE COINAGE

Poker-faced Key Pittman, is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, but international affairs will not be his first interest when Congress reconvenes. He has all ready and waiting a bill to authorize the free coinage of American silver. Pittman asserts that such a measure would be a determining factor in restoring the prosperity of the country.

Note—Pittman comes from Nevada, the largest silver producing state in the Union. He is up for reelection in 1934.

SOVIET MERRY-GO-ROUND

Russia owns one of the finest embassies in Washington. . . . It has been occupied only by a caretaker for sixteen years, soon will be occupied again. . . . The most significant fact about the Roosevelt-Russian note exchange is the way Soviet attitude toward Japan recently stiffened. . . . No one knew why at the time, but the answer is in Moscow's receipt of Roosevelt's message. . . . President Kalinin referred to this indirectly when he told Roosevelt that failure of the United States and Russia to have normal relations had an "unfavorable effect upon the general international situation." . . . Maxim Litvinov, who will come to Washington, is the man who spanked ex-Secretary of State Simpson when the latter lectured Russia about sending troops into Manchuria. . . . It was one of the worst diplomatic spankings in recent history.

ECONOMY PLEA IS MADE BY U. C. LEADER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—Reform and economic retrenchment in the schools must be directed by educational statesmanship and not by popular exasperation.

Though recognizing the justice in current complaints of taxpayers, President Robert Gordon Sprout of the University of California urged this stipulation before the conference of Western Taxpayers' associations here today.

Reform he stated, is inevitable, and will strike first at the university curriculum, which has expended beyond reason.

"Over-specialization has broken down our curricula into hosts of little departments, each set on proving its worth and expanding," Sprout continued.

In regard to research, the "life blood of higher education," Sprout expressed his belief that more money should be granted in this direction.

Recognizing the need for decreased costs, however, universities are making an intensive analysis of research problems, seeking practical methods to accomplish "better results with less money."

Definite retrenchment will be made in expenditures on building materials in the next decade, he went on.

"Too much money has been spent on buildings and grounds that require maintenance. More attention will be given expenditures for men and women in the future."

Charges Fly In Battle In N. Y. Election

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The air was thick with charges today as the mayoralty campaign rolled along.

Fiorello H. LaGuardia, fusion, charged "Democratic politicians" protected contractors who had "stolen" money from workers, by not paying the prevailing rate of wages. He said Joseph V. McKee knew of this.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND W C T U OAKLAND MEET

With a number of Richmond women in attendance, the annual convention of the W. C. T. U. is now being held at the First Methodist church in Oakland.

The Richmond official delegates who are attending includes Messdames C. R. Alexander, Carl Longacre, V. E. Skiles, M. L. Grayson, Paul Dunlap and J. A. Bottoms.

At yesterday's session of the convention, Mrs. Louise J. Taft of San Francisco, president of the northern district, declared that prohibition has been made the scapegoat of the financial calamity of the United States.

Mrs. Taft, in delivering her annual message before the convention, traced the political influences in the liquor question, and laid down a program of education for the organization to follow to combat the re-introduction of the liquor traffic in American life.

"World-wide financial depression is still attracting major attention," she said. Strangely enough, in our country, prohibition has been made the scapegoat for this calamity.

"The eighteenth amendment, which was adopted because the Government could not afford the liquor traffic, is being repealed to bring back the liquor traffic to support the Government."

She insisted the liquor interests again have a strangle hold in California and the Nation. The program of the wets, she asserted, will cause more unemployment because it displaces legitimate industry.

Crockett Lad Is Injured in Crash

CROCKETT, Oct. 24.—Mrs. D. M. Taylor and grandson, Bobby Dowd, inf. aged 10, of Crockett, were badly shaken up and the boy severely cut about the face, when an automobile accident on the Rodeo hill about 11 o'clock Sunday evening. Mrs. Taylor, accompanied by her grandson, was returning from a week-end visit in Oakland, when she encountered a car stalled across the highway, and was unable to bring her machine to a stop in time to avoid sideswiping the other car with her fender. The abruptness with which the car came to a standstill hurled the boy through the windshield.

Two youths who were occupants of the other car were unhurt. Their explanation was that they ran out of gas and were unable to proceed further. Traffic officers brought Mrs. Taylor and the injured boy to Crockett.
